PC Construction joins Phish to benefit tropical storm recovery

South Burlington, VT – September 9, 2011 – PC Construction Company announced today its plans to underwrite the costs of the Phish benefit concert next Wednesday, September 14, at the Champlain Valley Exposition Center in Essex Junction, Vermont. The concert will benefit flood recovery efforts in Vermont after Tropical Storm Irene left portions of the state completely devastated.

“So many lives have been affected by the wrath of Tropical Storm Irene – the citizens of this great state, businesses and municipalities, farmers, families, and the communities in which we live and work,” said Peter Bernhardt, President of PC Construction. “When we heard about the benefit concert, we were inspired by what Phish is doing and wanted to help make it a success.”

This approximately $100,000 underwriting of the production costs of the event will greatly assist in the goal of directing 100 percent of ticket sales to The WaterWheel Foundation and The Vermont Community Foundation to aid in the relief effort in Vermont.

“Our construction company was founded over a half century ago in this State and, like Phish and its band members, we have deep roots originating in Vermont,” said Bernhardt. “This is our chance to step beyond our traditional giving campaign and give back to the community in the aftermath of this unprecedented natural disaster. It just feels like the right thing to do.”

Tickets go on sale to the public on Saturday, September 10, at 10:00 AM ET. General admission tickets can be purchased for $75 and will include a free MP3 download of the entire show. The “Friend of WaterWheel” ticket package can be purchased for $250 and includes preferred parking, a reserved box seat, a limited edition poster, and access to a Vermont craft beer tent.
